INTRODUCTION

Residences are the heartbeat of student life at the North-West University (NWU). Residences play an integral part of student life and also important for the university's brand. Each of the residence have their own unique identity which is aligned to the University as a whole. Residence identity specifically play a vital role across the NWU and it is for this reason that it is at the various residences that friendships are formed and strengthened, cultural differences discovered and enjoyed. The different residents also have the opportunities to bond in formal and informal activities and sports competitions.

The NWU Brand together with Residence Identity

All stakeholders of the NWU should adhere to the strict guidelines set out in the Brand Policy of the University. The Brand Policy of the University applies to the NWU Council and its members, committees and other governance structures, all permanent and contracted staff of the NWU, and students. No one other than those referred to above are authorised to use the NWU brand or trademarks on any marketing material, clothing or social media before they have undertaken in writing to comply with the requirements of the Brand Policy in all respects.

Residences are allowed to have their own identity, however should at all times use their identity together with the NWU brand identity to further strengthen the NWU and respective residence.

Brand and Design Services

The Department: Marketing and Student Recruitment offers branding and design services free of charge. These services exclude production, which has cost implications for which you are responsible. We have a dedicated team of specialists to assist you with your needs. All you need to do is complete the request form, and one of our team members will be briefed to work on your request. When you complete the form, please be as descriptive as you can so that we can attend to your request as quickly and as professionally as possible. We will source the service providers for the production element for you, and for any work that will cost R5 000 and above we will source three quotations as per the procurement policy of the North-West University (NWU).

A maximum of three revisions are permitted to all requests. Please ensure all role players are involved in the decision-making when finalising your request. All designs must adhere to the prescribed corporate identity (CID) requirements before production. Final approval will lie with the Department: Marketing and Student Recruitment.

NOTICE: Should you use an external service provider for designing any resident material, you will need to send it through to the Department: Marketing and Student Recruitment for approval.
