ACADEX Drop-In Stations Now Open Across All Campuses!

The North-West University community is invited to make use of the new ACADEX Drop-In Stations, now available across all three campuses.

Designed to provide convenient, face-to-face support, the Drop-In Stations offer students and staff an opportunity to connect directly with the Centre for Teaching and Learning (CTL) team for guidance, assistance and information related to ACADEX and its associated services.

Why Visit an ACADEX Drop-In Station?

- Receive support and answers to your ACADEX-related questions.
- Connect directly with knowledgeable CTL team members.
- Learn about available tools, services and resources.

The ACADEX Drop-In Stations are committed to making support more accessible, helping the university community get the most out of the platform and related services. The infographic provides a complete overview of support services offered by the CTL Team
